Bluestone
BANK

We are the bank of the people.

At a time when big banks claim to have it all, from mobile convenience to in-branch café, there's one thing they will never have - community values. Genuine beliefs that inspire and support people through shared responsibility. That is the very foundation Bluestone Bank is built on. We're a team of like-minded community members who came together seamlessly. And we have the chance to prove what that means to our customers every day.

It starts by earning trust.
That's the foundation Bluestone Bank is built on.

Bluestone is grounded in the same strong values that shaped our alliance - compassion, trust and transparent communication. We also share the belief that supporting each other's growth and well-being translates into better service for our customers. We have the same values. The same commitment to community. The same brand promise. And that makes us truly better together.

We enhance people's lives.

Our promise is pretty simple. We know every customer is unique and deserving of our time, attention and respect. We understand people come to us for answers that help meet their needs and reach their goals. Our job is to fully appreciate those needs, pool our expertise as a team and provide a solution that achieves goals and improves lives. Together, we're better and our customers are better for it.

WELCOME

[to Bluestone Bank]

Just a glimpse.

As a customer you can expect to receive the same unparalleled commitment to your financial needs along with the added conveniences of more banking locations, more ATMs, new products, services, and technology advances. For our business customers, the merger helps increase our ability to serve a greater number of you and offer larger loans to help our local businesses thrive.

Simply, our expanded size makes us a better bank and allows us to be a better community leader too, with a greater capacity to give back to the neighborhoods we serve. We look forward to proving this to you every day as Bluestone Bank.
